News Release: Visible® is on Gartner's radar in 2015.

BOSTON, MA – October 31, 2015 – Visible Systems Corporation is mentioned several times by analyst groups at Gartner Research. Razor® Cloud was among the mentions by Gartner as a Software Change and Configuration Management (SCCM) solution providing a centralized version control architecture, on premise and cloud-based multitenant hosting and a branded change management solution.

Other mentions of Visible® solutions by Gartner include:

- Uses Object Oriented Analysis & Design (OOA&D) methods, either formally or informally, to understand and document system architecture, solution design and dependencies.
- Implements OOA&D methods and tools in conjunction with the development of service-oriented applications.
- As a best practice, uses business process analysis modeling, methods and tools at the conceptual/planning and analysis level to define business processes, workflows and events, then bridge those models with OOA&D tools to continue IT modeling for the processes to be implemented in software solutions.
- Understands where investment in domain-specific modeling may improve time to market or lower long-term costs.

"We have been hard at work developing features that take advantage of the cloud and creating awareness around those features. As a result, it is nice to see those acknowledgements from Gartner especially in Application Infrastructure and Middleware Software, Worldwide." said Michael Cesino, CEO & President.
